

RTI Disclosures

1. Round Table International

Round Table International (RTI) collects personal information such as name, surname, country, phone number, email, birthday, and reasoning through the Join Us form on round-table.org. This information is shared with associations in the country where the form was filled, and with RTI E-Club if no associations exist in the country. Any information provided to RTI must be in compliance with local data privacy and security laws and regulations. RTI uses this data for purposes of distributing acknowledgments and recognitions, along with statistical documentation of donations and recognitions made, unless a donor has provided additional information to RTI through other means, which may be utilized to improve a member's experience. Users must provide explicit consent before their personal information is shared with any third parties. RTI will never sell or share personal data, including donor information, with any unrelated third parties. Users have the right to access, modify, or delete their personal information by contacting RTI. For additional information on how RTI uses your data and protects your privacy, please visit our Data Privacy Information page.

2. Tabler.World

Tabler.World collects personal information such as first and last name, birth date, e-mail address, language preference, member number, and Round-table membership (if applicable), and may track service activity participation, conversations, and invites sent within the application. RTI takes data security and privacy seriously and only uses this information for the specific application unless users have provided additional information to RTI through other means. Users must use this application in compliance with local laws and regulations. Users must provide explicit consent before their personal information is shared with any third parties. Users have the right to access, modify, or delete their personal information by contacting RTI. For additional information on how RTI uses your data and protects your privacy, please visit our Data Privacy Information page.

3. RTI E-Club

RTI E-Club collects personal information such as name, surname, country, phone number, email, birthday, and reasoning through the Join Us form on round-table.org. This information is used to contact the person who filled in the form. Any information provided to RTI must be in compliance with local data privacy and security laws and regulations. RTI uses this data for purposes of distributing acknowledgments and recognitions, along with statistical documentation of donations and recognitions made, unless a donor has provided additional information to RTI through other means, which may be utilized to improve a member's experience. Users must provide explicit consent before their personal information is shared with any third parties. RTI will never sell or share personal data, including donor information, with any unrelated third parties.

ROUNDTABLE

INTERNATIONAL

Users have the right to access, modify, or delete their personal information by contacting RTI. For additional information on how RTI uses your data, please visit our Data Privacy Information page.

4. Round Table Family

Round Table International has a very good and deep working relationship with round table Family members. These Are 41 international, Ladies Circle International, Agora International and Tangent Club International. As we work to gether on many fronts like sharing activity`s and other mutual interested information we will never share personal information with these parties with out explicit consent of the user.

5. Round Table Cares

RTC uses certain donor information including name, address, city, state, country, postal code, amount of donation, honor of acknowledgement name, special occasion address, honor of acknowledgement address, donation recipient name and address, award recipient name, and award recipient ship to address. Any information provided to RTI must be provided in a manner that is consistent with local data privacy and data security laws and regulations. RTI only uses the data provided for purposes of distributing acknowledgments and recognitions, along with statistical documentation of donations and recognitions made, unless a donor has provided additional information to RTI through other means, which may be utilized to improve a member's experience. We will never sell or share your Personal Data, including but not limited to donor information collected online or offline, with any unrelated third parties. For additional information on how RTI uses your data, please visit our Data Privacy Information page.

6. Round Table International Service Projects/Programs

RTI Service Programs has a form where Round Table members or non members can submit there projects. We use here name, surname, club country, phone number, email, Club number and Project details. All information goes to our RTI Service Officer. Any information provided to RTI must be provided in a manner that is consistent with local data privacy and data security laws and regulations. RTI only uses the data provided for purposes of distributing acknowledgments and recognitions, along with statistical documentation of donations and recognitions made, unless a donor has provided additional information to RTI through other means, which may be utilized to improve a member's experience. We will never sell or share your Personal Data, including but not limited to donor information collected online or offline, with any unrelated third parties. For additional information on how RTI uses your data, please visit our Data Privacy Information page.

Created by Ben Kin, RTI IT-manager 2022-2023

Version 1.0

Publication date: Jul 2023

Last Updated: Jul 2023